

The Times,

OWOSSO, FRIDAY, SEPT. 27, 1895.

EDMUND O. DEWEY, EDITOR.

Lower into the mire of dishonesty and misrepresentation sinks the editor of the Argus, as by falsification and slander he attempts to excuse his upholding of the crime of incendiarism, his breaking of contract made upon his honor, and his attempt to shoulder the results of his ignorance upon men whom he called upon for favors. An editor who thus breaks faith with outsiders whom he calls upon, will find himself, as we believe Mr. Campbell is doing, dropped from the confidence of the best people of the community. In regard to his attempt to justify his insult to the citizens of this city, in his statement that "scarcely anyone was sorry to see the flames spreading," he refers to his editorial. His duplicity becomes only the more prominent in this way. If there were any who were glad that the house was burned he was willing to pander to them. At the same time he knew that people in general did not justify the act and he desired to satisfy them.

In his attempt to sneak out of the position in which he placed himself in the matter of the Argus he descends to a deliberate and contemptible fabrication and then tries to lay that upon someone else. He says: "Charles W. Parker informed us last night that no one had made the offer to pay five dollars for a change of cover." Mr. Parker instructs us to say that he is misquoted; that he heard Rollin Pond say he would give $5, rather than have his ad. sent out in the way it was printed; that Mr. Pond turned to Mr. Campbell and asked him how many were printed and found out that there were some not yet out. The conversation continued but he did not hear the rest. Mr. Pond makes the following statement, which he desires us to print:

"I desire to state that in the presence of George Campbell I offered $5 if the covers on the Labor Day souvenir were removed and others printed and put on. I further desire to state that Mr. Campbell agreed to put my ad. in the middle of the book, which he failed to do, and that he openly insulted me when I attempted to make my position known in the matter."

ROLLIN POND.

Others, including a prominent visitor at the meeting, state that this conversation took place and they are prepared to swear to it. Thus does this man, who posed as a Christian instructor, show his true character.

For the second time in the same article the Argus editor proves himself capable of descending to any level to squeeze out of a hole. He states that, "Mr. Dewey endeavored to sell us a half interest in THE TIMES." This is the worst yet. A prominent officer in one of the manufacturing concerns of the city, who, at that time thought Mr. Campbell an honest gentleman came to the editor of THE TIMES and asked him to sell an interest to Mr. Campbell. This the gentleman will at any time confirm. We refused to sell, not once, but several times and finally the gentleman went to see if he could not get Mr. Campbell an interest in The Owosso Press.

As to "retrograding," etc., everyone in Owosso knows that the Argus has been getting poorer and poorer, locally, ever since it came under the present management, and expressions of this feeling are heard on every hand.

THE TIMES has been gratified during the week past to receive hundreds of congratulations from the professional, business and working men of this city, and not a few ladies, too, on its article "Upholding Incendiarism." The publication of some of these utterances would not be at all creditable to the Argus management. Suffice it to say we know we are right in the position taken, and that the almost unanimous sentiment of Owosso citizens endorses every word contained in the article.

Ann Arbor Railroad.

The Toledo, Ann Arbor & North Michigan railroad has been absorbed by a new company which has filed articles of association under the name of the Ann Arbor Railway company. The new company has a capital stock of $7,250,000, and paid a franchise fee of $3,625 into the state treasury.

The reorganization took place at Durand on Saturday. The directors are Wellington R. Burt, William C. McClure, Saginaw; A. W. Wright, Alma; E. W. Tolerton, Toledo; George W. Quintard, Edward Simmons, Robert M. Galloway, R. C. Martin, Cyrus J. Lawrence, John Jacob Astor, Robert D. Murray and Benjamin Perkins, New York. Officers: President, W. R. Burt; secretary, D. C. Tate, of New York; general manager, H. W. Ashley.

The new company is capitalized at $7,250,000, of which $4,000,000 is preferred stock. The bonded indebtedness will be $7,000,000.

The company will continue the many improvements contemplated. There will have been spent upon some portions of property nearly as much money in improvements as the original cost of the road. The financial plan places the property on a firm basis and in first-class condition, providing adequate terminals at Toledo and ample equipments all over the road. Improvements on terminals at Frankfort are contemplated that will greatly facilitate the handling of the rapidly increasing business at that end of the line.

By a majority of seven Cornsna decided not to issue bonds for the purpose of putting in a system of water works.

Maj. A. M. Beebe died at his home in Grand Rapids on Saturday. He was formerly a resident of Owosso and at one time postmaster. His remains were taken to Detroit for cremation. The ashes will be brought to this city and buried in Oakhill cemetery beside the remains of his wife who was buried a few months ago.

A "Banner Day."

From the American Economist:

Carried away by its Free-trade enthusiasm, the New York World said recently: "Yesterday was the banner day of the Custom House. The entries for customs were 1519 and the receipts were $438,365.95. No day in the history of the customs at New York, under the McKinley bill, approached these receipts within $50,000."

As for ourselves, we would much rather hear of "banner day" at American factories, on which more goods would be made and more wages paid than ever before. There is something absurd in this boasting of the influx of foreign goods at a time when many worthy people are out of work and many more are working for low wages.

The McKinley bill can stand the implied sneer in the above paragraph. It did not destroy foreign commerce as its opponents held it would, but it held in check foreign imports that competed with home industries. It was not framed to create a "banner day" at the Custom House.

Morrice.

F. E. Purdy and Henry Howard attended the S. S. rally at Owosso—Charles Goldwood returned last Friday from Isabella county, where he had been to locate an 80 acres of land for his son, Charles Goldwood, Jr.—Ernest Chapman, of Powersville, visited Floyd Stoddard this week—Miss Carrie Holcomb, of Powersville, is a guest at R. Craig's—Miss Nettie Fairman, of Owosso, visited Fred Smith and wife last week—Geo. W. Smith is running his brick and tile business with a full force—Nelson French and wife have moved here from Kansas and are occupying Mrs. Geo. Rowell's house—Towner & Hunt shipped a car load of beans Tuesday—Mrs. Henry Watkins, of Lansingburg, was visiting friends here the fore part of the week—There was quite an exciting occurrence at the depot Wednesday. The engine on the passenger train going east at ten o'clock broke an axle and became disabled, delaying the train two hours, until they could get another engine from Lansing.

A Cure for Catarrh.

BUCKEYS, OHIO, May 12, 1896
Messrs. R. Pretzinger & Bro., Dayton, O.
Gentlemen: My wife and myself have been chronic sufferers from catarrh in its worst form for a number of years. We have tried every remedy heard of with the hope of securing relief, but without success. By the advice of a friend we tried a jar of Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm, and I am most happy to bear testimony to its merits. I believe it to be the only catarrh cure. It has cured me, and I think it will cure any one who will give it a trial.

Yours truly,

DETROIT, MICH., February 27, 1895.
Messrs. R. Pretzinger & Bro., Dayton, O.
Gentlemen: I have been a sufferer from Catarrh for a number of years, trying every remedy I heard of, hoping that they would effect a cure—but without avail. Although I have been using Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm but a short time, I find that my nasal catarrh is entirely cured. I wish to recommend it to all who are suffering with catarrh.
Yours very truly,

"La Mascotte."

"La Mascotte Up to Date," by the Gilbert Opera Co., last night, delighted every member of the large audience present—Big Rapids Evening Pioneer, Sept. 20, 1895.
Opera house, Saturday, Sept. 28. Seats on sale at Collins & Co's drug store.

The market is full of cough mixtures, but one trouble with most of them is that when they do a little good the patient has to take so much that he gets to loathe the taste. The Pineola Balm is superior to other cough remedies because it is agreeable to the palate and its good effects are immediate. In a few days an ordinary cough is gone altogether. Bronchitis and asthma are more stubborn, but they too are cured by Ely's Pineola Balm. A remedy worth trying. Twenty-five cents is all it costs.

Mrs. E. E. Davis, of San Miguel, Cal. says: "I am trying in a measure to repay the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for the great good their remedy has done me. For years I was a constant sufferer from weak lungs and bronchial asthma. My rest at night was disturbed by a hacking cough, so that I felt miserable the greater part of the time. Many remedies recommended by friends were tried, none of which proved suitable to my case. I did not experience any beneficial results until I began taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. After two bottles of the large size have been used I am pleased to state, my health is better than it has been for years. The soreness has left my lungs and chest and I can breathe easily. It has done me so much good that I want all who are suffering from lung troubles, as I was, to give it a trial." For sale by Johnson & Henderson.

Another Excursion to Detroit.

The excursion of the 23d inst., to Detroit was a success in every sense of the word, and a great many of the excursionists have requested us to run another excursion on the 29th; consequently the D., G. H. & M. Ry., will give one more excursion to Detroit on that date.

The train has been timed to leave half an hour earlier on the 29th, than on the 23d, and will therefore leave Owosso at 7:25 a. m. Rate from Owosso, $1.25.

There is certainly no better opportunity of seeing Detroit than on one of these popular excursions. For this excursion bicycles and baby carriages will be carried free, and there will be a man in the baggage car to look after them. This has been one of the features of these excursions.

It has also been arranged by this company for one of the Detroit & Belle Isle steamers to be at this company's dock to take passengers to Belle Isle, the fare for the round trip being but 10 cents.

For the next Sunday's excursion (of the 29th) we will have ample room, and accommodation will be made for all, so that those desiring to see Detroit with its attractions, can do so for the last time this year, by taking advantage of the low rate offered.

Owosso passengers only may return on train leaving Detroit at 10:45 p. m. if they desire to do so.

Secretary Dewey will be at his office on Saturday to pay premiums and request all parties to whom premiums were awarded at the fair to call on that day for the same.

The place to buy your children's caps is at Mrs. Geo. Sprinkle's.

Are you from Ohio?

If so you certainly want to visit your friends and relatives in the "Buckeye state." You can do it cheaply on the T. A. A. and N. R. Rs. Tenth annual Ohio excursion to leave Owosso at 9 A. M. Wednesday Oct. 2th 1895.
